

More and more employers want to help their employees pay off student loans.

Now, thanks to our digital verification tools, managing that benefit is simple and fast. And it's all fueled by our award-winning data access and insights API, so you know you're working with the best data.

Our Student Loan Account Verification solution taps into the power of Finicity's ACH endpoint to confirm accounts and routing numbers and to make payments on behalf of employers for their employees. Our solution offers increased accuracy, enhanced security, and a streamlined digital experience.

Account verification can include:

- Account name on file with lender
- Account number
- Routing number
- Account balance

Student Loan Account Verification leverages Finicity Connect, an embeddable web application, to deliver an intuitive experience for employees and human resources personnel alike. All it takes is three quick steps:

1. Integration

Easily integrate our tool into existing repayment platforms using Finicity Connect.

2. Identification

Repayment platforms present the white-labeled Finicity application to individual employees to identify the correct student loan processor for their account and connect to it.

3. Validation

Finicity's solution instantly validates the payment details, including the amount and specific payment number.

Customer Experience

Using our digital Student Loan Account Verification solution saves time and provides a frictionless experience from start to finish. We'll verify the critical account details and make sure loan payments end up in the right place. No hassle. Just exactly what you need, when you need it.
